RE: Mr. Batuhan Uzunoglu

To Whom it May Concern:

As the Erasmus+ coordinator for our Group of Biochemistry, Faculty of Chemistry, Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iasi, Romania, I am pleased to support Ms. Ulfet Erdogan Uzunoglu's application for a study visa, as part of the Erasmus+ student exchange program. Her spouse will also travel, but as a tourist, and only for two weeks. This is ongoing collaboration between Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iasi and Clarkson University.

We are happy to include you in our research group and facilitate interactions with our Master's and PhD students. Your expertise in proteomics and mass spectrometry, along with discussions on your research projects and laboratory methodologies at Clarkson University, would provide invaluable academic and scientific contributions to our students and academic community.

The Erasmus+ program from Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iasi will provide you with a stipend, which includes housing in the university's dorms, travel and food.

Sincerely,

Brindusa Alina Petre, Ph.D. Habil.
